An Axeoliest Last Day Military Drilling—A Oct trows and lateresting Races.

The Fair closed yesterday, and it was, the outlook of Wednesday considered, a decided success. The beneficial results of Wednesday night's rain were not appreciably dissipated. There was less dust than is any previous Fair-year, save one, in the last sive, The atmosphere was decidedly bracing, and overcoats and wraps were in demand. The attendance, though small in comparison with Thursday's crowd, was above the average for a last day. The soldiery did not have so large an audience at ry did not have so large an audience at selr drill as the propitious condition of eather and the decided attraction warrant ed. This may be accounted for by reason of the fact that the military-drill programme was, in a measure, impromptu, as the result of the non-entrance of some outside compapies that were expected.

THE MILITARY DRELL.

Though there was no military contest, the drill for prizes, according to the schedule of programme, by the Alexandria Light Infantry, the Richmond Howitzers, and the Stuart Horse Guards, was remarkably fine throughout. The efforts of each company were highly commended by the speciators, and, as the report of the judges will show, were of a high order of excellence. This exhibition drill was, as on the previous day, by programme, confined strictly to fifty-one movements, to be executed, in order of the programme, in thirty minutes, any departure from the stated schedule by the empanies to be counted sgainst them.

The first company to drill was the Alexandris Light Infantry, George A. Mushbek, esptain. They exhibited on this occasion, according to the report of the judges, the best drilling at this year's Fair. If the captain had understood that the point of excellence was the completion of the programme in the time specified and his company had drilled before as on yesterday, they would beyond a Joubt have received the first prize in the general drill on Thursday. Their score yesterday was ninety-two out of a possible one hundred. They received a prize of $400. ALEXANDRIA LIGHT INPANTRY.

THE RICHMOND HOWITZERS.

The Richmond Howitzers were the next called to the drill. In their case, as with the other two companies who drilled yesterday (there being no contest), the requirement was that they should make at least eighty out of a possible hundred in order to secure a prize. The manacuvres of the Howitzers were highly complimented on all sides. They drilled with wonderful precision and adhered to the cashedule as set forth. They made the remarkable score of ninety-eight out of a possible hundred, which is a record, under impartial judges, to be proud of. They were awarded a prize of $300. The judges, all accomplished army officers, were heard to say, while speaking in complimentary terms of the Howitzers, that they drilled as well as any detachment they ever saw.

The cavalry branch of the Richmond volunteer service were the last to appear before the judges. The Stuart Horse Guards, under command of Captain Philip Head), entered the lists, and did eredit not unly to themselves but to their city. This was really their first public drill, and they made a most creditable appearance. Their manœuvres were really excellent when the comparative raw condition of their mount is considered. They were highly complimented by both spectators and judges. Their score was eighty-seven out of a possible hundred, and they were accorded a premium of $300.

The judges were Lieutenant T. R. Adams, Fifth artillery; Lieutenant S. F. Massey, Fifth artillery, United States army.

Altogether the military display of yesterday was highly creditable throughout—infantry, artillery, and cavalry.

The sport afforded yesterday was above the average, for the last day of the Fair. The attendance was quite good in the grand stand and along the course near thereto. Especial interest was manifested in the trotting match, best three in five, for a purse of $600.

The five horses entered for this race all responded to the call: Robert Brewster, Brook Hill, Lady Chevy, Ascoli, and Lost Cause. The first heat was won by Robert Brewster, in 2:19, followed closely by Brook Hill, Ascoli third, Lady Chevy fourth, and Lost Cause distanced. Robert Brewster wen the second heat in 2:17, with Brook Hill second, Ascoli third, and Lady Chevy three lengths behind.

Second Race—Trotting, best three in five, to harness; premium $150; free only to stallions that have stood the pist season in Virginia; four to enter, three to start. First horse, $100; second horse, $35; third borse, $15. Entrance fee, $15. Henry Ward Beecher, Signet, and Woodburn responded to the call. There was little or no interest in this, as Beecher was the acknowledged choice of all. There was little or no interest in this, as Beecher was the acknowledged choice of all. There are was won by him in three straight heats, Sugnal second, and Woodburn a bad third. Time, 2:504, 2:534, and 2:49.

The Third Race—Running—premium $150—one and one quarter-mile dash; gentlemen riders; three or more to cuter, three to start. Free only to horses used habitually as saddle horses. First horse, $150; second horse, $35; third horse, $15. Butrance fee, $7.50. For this race Jesse, $100; second horse, $35; third horse, $15. Butrance fee, $7.50. For this race Jesse, Jesse James, and Experiment responded to the sall; Cigarette being ruled out as being a racer. The three started off well together, reaching the half-mile pole in a bunch. On the third quarter, Jesse took the lead followed closely throughout by Jesse James, with Experiment several lengths behind; Jesse coming under the 12:ing a neck ahead of Jesse James. Time, 2:31.

Fourth Race—Trotting to harness—

Pourth Race—Trotting to harness—premium $200—mile heats, three in five: four $5 enfer, three to start. Free to all horses that have not made a record under $225 minutes. First horse, $505! second horse, $100; third horse, $50. Entrancefee, $50.

At the call of the bugle only three of the six entered. Edwin A., Alice Addison, and Tempest responded for the contest. Decided interest was manifested in this race by those inclined to sport, the odds being in favor of Tempest, who won in three straight heats, followed closely in each by Alice Addison, Time: 2:31½, 2:32, and 2:33.

CLOSE OF THE FAIR.

At 5 o'clock, the hour published for the withdrawal of the entries in the various departments, the vast collection of hve and insulmate exhibits began to move. Exhibitors who had secured premiums wore a satisfied expression, while those who were not so fortunate seemed, as a general rule, satisfied with the judicial awards. Altogether the Fair of 1884 has been a decided success, and the management are to be congratulated upon the fine results that have attended their efforts. The executive officers, marshals, and all, deserve especial commendation for their courteous and efficient conduct of this Fair, and the Society may consider themselves fortunate it they secure such efficient management in the future.

As it may be a matter of interest to the friends of the military companies who con-tested for Thursday's prizes, the official score is published as follows: Company B, Walker Light Guard, 8 34-153.

Company B, Walker Light Guard, 8 34-153.
Ten was the maximum.
Company A, Richmond Grays, 6 66-153.
Company C, Guard of the Commonwealth, 5 144-153.
Alexandria Light Infantry, 5 122-153.
Washington Light Infantry, 4 133-153.
This company only executed one half of the programme.

A Question of Grammar.

he Editor of the Dispatch:

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

In it grammatical for one to say "That is my handwrite"; or for a witness in a will mee to testify, "I recognize that signature as John Smith's handwrite"? Or, should both say "handwriting"?

We "pause for a reply" from the grammatical editor of the Dispatch.

Yours, &c.

October 23d.

"Handwriting" is the proper word.
'Handwrite" is to be found in no dicionary that we are acquainted with.
Singularly enough, although the word handwriting" is in the Bible and in hukespeare, it is not in Stonmonth's dic-Shakespeare, it is not in Stonmonth's dic-tionary—the latest and supposed to be one of the best of English dictionaries.
